The Group Study Rooms (GSRs) in Huntsman Hall and the Wharton San Francisco campus are equipped with computers and screens. All GSRs support screen sharing and web conferencing.

The room is managed by a touchscreen mounted on the wall next to the screen.

Getting Started

1. Wake the touch panel next to the display by tapping it.

2. Select a source to display on the room monitor. Wireless Presentation is selected by default; if you want to display a different source or switch between sources, press one of the other source buttons:
   - Resident PC: the built-in public computer located in the GSR.
   - Wireless Presentation: opens Solstice Display to allow wireless sharing of personal devices.
   - HDMI/VGA: displays whatever device is plugged into the HDMI/VGA cables. Note - the WSF campus only has HDMI cables in the GSRs.

Basic Use

Resident PC

The GSR resident PC is much like a computer in our Computer Labs. Log in with your PennKey credentials using the mouse and keyboard on the table.
Wireless Presentation

Follow the instructions in Casting your screen to the GSRs via Solstice

HDMI/VGA

The HDMI & VGA cables are mounted in the cabinet below the display on a retractable spool. If you are using VGA, be sure to plug in the audio jack as well; HDMI carries audio without the need for an additional connection.

Do note that the WSF GSRs only offer HDMI cables.

Adjusting the volume

Use the vol up, vol down, and mute buttons in the top-left of the touch panel to control in-room volume.

Presentation timer

Practicing a presentation? The GSR touch panels have a presentation timer that you can use to ensure you stay within your allotted time. To use the Presentation Timer:

1. Tap Presentation Timer on the top of the touch panel.
2. Set the timer using the Hours and Minutes buttons.
3. Press Start Timer to begin the countdown.
4. The Touch Panel will display your countdown.

Log out/shutdown

Once you're finished with a GSR there are some things you can do to make it ready for the next student's reservation:

- If you used the Resident PC, be sure to log out.
- Unplug any cables from your laptop, and press the retraction buttons over the appropriate cable. Be sure to hold the end of the cable in your hand to retract it slowly, it will move quickly and may whip around if you don’t.
- Press System Shutdown on the touch panel.

FAQ and Troubleshooting

If you are having trouble with one of the technologies in the room, see if your question is listed in our Troubleshooting GSRs article. If not, or the solution doesn’t solve the problem, please submit a ticket to the Student Support Team.
