

Creating peer evaluations

Last Modified on 03/30/2021 2:30 pm EDT

This article explains how to use Feedback Fruits to create an assignment in which students evaluate the performance of the other students in their class, or in a group in their class.

In Feedback Fruits, a peer evaluation assignment is called a group member evaluation, and can be restricted to groups or open to the entire class. Here's how to create one.

These evaluations can be tricky if you aren't used to them; please feel free to ask Courseware for assistance in creating yours.

TIP: Student view does not yet work with Feedback Fruit assignments. Courseware can help you experience an evaluation as a student would.
